UNM Landscape Architecture in Paris

This summer, nine SA+P students and four UNM faculty roamed through Paris. The French Landscape & Urban Design course explored the passage of ideas between landscape and urban design from the 1660s up to the new ecological neighborhoods. Landscape professors Chris Wilson and Alf Simon, landscape instructor, Sue Frye, and library professor, Claire-Lise Benaud (a native of Paris) led the course.

News + Features

Assistant Professor, Ane Gonzalez Lara is the focus of the recent feature, "Building a Better Architecture Professor." Ane finished up her first year with UNM SA+P by spending her summer traveling the world. Read about Professor Gonzalez Lara's busy summer with UNM SA+P on UNM News

Professor of Landscape Architecture, Chris Wilson, spoke to KUNM about the iconic Kimo

Theater this month. The elaborate Albuquerque theatre is an example of the popular but short-lived "Pueblo Deco" hybrid of Art Deco and Pueblo Revival styles. Listen to the interview on local NPR station, KUNM.

Associate Dean & Professor, Mark Childs, along with Ellen Babcock, founder of Friends of the Orphan Signs have published The Zeon Files, a chronicle of the eye-catching roadside signage found throughout the Southwest.

The third edition of Sustainable Landscape Construction by Associate Research Professor Kim Sorvig and William Thompson is in the press and will be released shortly.

Assistant Professor Caroline Scruggs with MCRP graduate Jason Herman completed a report entitled "The Cost of Direct and Indirect Potable Water Reuse in a Medium-Sized Arid Inland Community" for the New Mexico Water Resources Research Institute.

Professor Renia Ehrenfeucht recently published a book chapter on food truck justice in the book From Loncheras to Lobsta Love: Food Trucks, Cultural Identity, and Social Justice

The Architecture Department within the School of Architecture + Planning will be undergoing a NAAB accreditation visit in 2017-2018.

In the past three years, enrollment in the SA+P Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree has increased by 30%, and the Master of Architecture (M.Arch) program by 22%.

The UNM Landscape Architecture program will be hosting an Academic Program Review in November. This is a review UNM conducts with all units on a nine or ten year cycle. It is a 3 day visit and is similar to an accreditation with outside reviewers. UNM LA outside reviewers will be Bernie Dahl from Purdue and Hala Nassar from Clemson, with Andrea Poli from the College of Fine Arts as our UNM reviewer.
